Annotated List of Web Resources & Websites for Organic Seeds and Information on Seed Saving

These are the web resources that have been instrumental in setting up the Community Seed Connection @ Chester Springs Library. Some of these sites are informational, some also sell organic seeds, and some are the websites of companies who have donated seeds. There are also resources for seed saving procedures – which are very important if you plan to return seeds to the Community Seed Connection. Remember, it is not required to return seeds. If you find more websites to add to this list, please email them to nniggel@ccls.org

These companies donated seeds to the Community Seed Connection: Thank You!
